„Búsqueda de la verdad, el bien y la belleza” (Universidad Finis Terrae).
„Search for truth, good and beauty”

Short description:

The University is an academic community of higher education in which its teachers and students contribute to personal training, the progress of science and the development of cultural heritage, through research, teaching and various broadcast services offered to society. Because of its Catholic identity it is a University that strives to establish a dialogue between faith and reason.

Students

1. Trinidad Belem Valdes Guerra
from 19/02/2018 to 30/06/2018
2. Jonathan Flaquer Meza
from 19/02/2018 to 30/06/2018

Let's meet...

Jonathan is from Chile and he describes himself as being friendly, empathic, an adventurer, creative, and persistent person. In Chile he is in his last year, soon obtaining an undergraduate degree in advertising. His main motivation for coming to study at METU the opportunity to get to know new learning methods and views on how advertising and communications is applied.

For future incoming students, Johnny would like to give them the following message: “It is a big opportunity to learn with a different perspective about your study field and grow both personally as well as professionally, having fun but at the same time facing exciting challenges.”
